Indoor Football Practice Facility

Opened: April, 2017

Surface: AstroTurf 3D3 Rootzone Blend

The Indoor Football Practice Facility was built during Liberty's reclassification process to join the FBS. The Indoor Football Practice Facility provides Liberty a full-size indoor football field with end zones, hanging goal posts and has a 70-foot ceiling clearance.

The Indoor Football Practice Facility offers a separation divider at the middle of the field that can separate the space into two areas that can be lowered upon request. An outdoor field is located outside of the Indoor Football Practice Facility that provides users with a full-sized football field with goal posts.

The Indoor Football Practice Facility is used by the Liberty University NCAA Football team for daily practices and is used for Flames Fest during home games.
